GREECE ANSWERS BULGARIA'S MOVE DECREE FOR MOBILIZATION SIGNED

LAND FORCES OF GREECE ORDERED TO ASSEMBLE PARLIAMENT SUMMONED

GREEK RESERVISTS IN ROME RECALLED TO JOIN COLORS

Balkans on Brink of War Awaiting Greek King's Action in Ordering General Mobilization

BREAK EXPECTED MOMENTARILY

Bulgaria Completing Preparations for War by Improving Defenses on Serbian Frontier

ATHENS, Sept. 24.—King Constantine today signed a decree ordering general mobilization of the Greek land forces. The Greek parliament has been summoned to meet next Wednesday to vote military measures.

ROME, Sept. 24.—All Greek reservists today were recalled to the colors. The Greek minister here received telegraphic announcement of the mobilization order early today.

ATHENS, Sept. 24.—A great crowd cheered Premier Venizelos wildly when he left the foreign office this forenoon with the decree for general mobilization to obtain the king's signature. News that a mobilization order calling twenty classes to the colors had been decided upon was flashed through the city earlier in the day and the second announcement that general mobilization orders would be issued increased the tension.

The government is expected to take over control of the railways at once to facilitate mobilization. No orders to that effect had been issued this forenoon.

Venizelos has summoned leaders of all political parties to a conference to be held this evening. His object is to solidify all elements behind the government in meeting the crisis caused by Bulgaria's order of mobilization.

Parliament probably will be asked to give the government full authority to deal with the Bulgarian situation unless Bulgaria backs down before the chamber meets next Wednesday. That this action will be preliminary to war, no one doubts.

Bulgaria is mobilizing all classes from 1890 to 1912, it was learned today. The Greek cabinet yesterday decided to mobilize all classes from 1892 to 1911 in answer to the Bulgarian threat against Serbia and the king signed against last night. It is understood that the general mobilization decree was decided upon at a conference held at the war office and lasting until early today.

Government organs today declored that Greece must support Serbia in case of Bulgarian attack or resign herself to the fate of becoming a second rate Balkan power. Success of an Austro-German-Bulgar alliance, they asserted would mean the eventual overthrow of Greece herself.

War Near

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The Balkans made rapid strides toward war today. Greece answered the Bulgarian call to arms by summoning two-thirds of her reservists to the colors. King Constantine was expected to sign a second decree late this afternoon ordering mobilization of all the land forces of his kingdom.

The ultimatum that will tumble the Balkans into the world war may go flashing over the telegraph wires before night. The allied capitals are on tiptoe, awaiting the first news of the beginning of armed clashes.

The news from Athens was received with the greatest satisfaction here. Greece intends to stand by Serbia. That is the only interpretation that can be put on the Greek mobilization order. Rumania is expected to make a similar move, but Bucharest dispatches today were strangely silent on this point.

Bulgaria Completing Preparations

Bulgaria is completing her preparations for war. Large forces of workmen are busy improving her frontier defenses on the Serbian boundary. Bulgarian vessels in the Black sea are running to shelter in Bulgarian ports.

This apparently disposes of a re-

This Pastor Works As Mason Laying Church Foundation

Rev. C. R. Disney Works Every Day But Saturday and Sunday With Brick and Tile on New Building

NEW ALBIN, Ia., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Rev. C. R. Disney, pastor of the Methodist church here, believes that a minister ought to do other things than preach, and he is backing up his contentions by laying the brick and tile of the foundations of a new church to cost $15,000.

For several weeks, Rev. Disney has been arising early and has been found at the site of the new church with the balance of the workmen engaged in laying the foundations.

He works all day, only stopping towards the last of the week to prepare his sermons for Sunday. New Albin churchgoers have been attracted in large numbers by Rev. Disney's sermons. They lovingly call him the "workingman-parson," and applaud his "practice-what-you-preach" theories.

The new church is being built of tile and is to be pebble-dashed, with all modern interior designing.

COURT ROOM BLUE AS WITNESS GIVES SWEAR VOCABULARY

Roomer Tells of Fights Between William Hackett and His Brother-in-law William Funger

With county court yesterday afternoon filled with spectators and witnesses in the trial of William Hackett and his wife for assault and battery against William Funger, Mrs. Hackett's brother, Jacob Ruesgen, a roomer at the Funger home, gave an almost complete list of the swear words which the English language affords.

"I can't tell you what Mrs. Hackett said," Ruesgen answered the attorney who commanded him to repeat the names used by Mrs. Agnes Hackett.

"You'll have to," said the court.

And the court room was filled with "blue" for a few minutes.

"Now you've got what you wanted," gasped Ruesgen when he completed the naughty vocabulary and a snicker went round the room.

Hackett was fined $10 and costs which he did not pay. He was sent to jail for fifteen days. Mrs. Hackett was found not guilty.

Ruesgen was the only cool witness in the case. He told of two fights, at the Funger home on the north side, the last of which he did not stay to see.

Mrs. Nellie Reinartz, mother of Mrs. Hackett and Funger tried to separate the men while they were fighting, according to her story, and in the fracas, she was severely bitten on the hand.

SUNDAY NOT SATISFIED

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 24.—When only thirty persons, mostly children, hit the trail last night, Billy Sunday called his staff of workers together and told them they must do better. Sunday isn't satisfied with the way Omahans are hitting the trail and said so forcibly.

Following receipt of a Black Hand letter, Sunday is constantly guarded by detectives and the tabernacle is guarded day and night.

BODY OF ARABIC VICTIM FOUND

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The body of Mrs. Josephine Bruguiere of New York and San Francisco, one of the two American victims of the Arabic disaster, was washed up on the Irish coast today.

ROCKEFELLER AT TARRYTOWN

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 24.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., arrived at Tarrytown from Cleveland early today and drove immediately to his estate at Pocantico Hills.

SALZER WEEK-END STAG BEGINS AT FERNDALE WITH MANY DISTINQUISHED GUESTS

An interesting week-end party, the second of what may become an annual event, is being entertained by Henry A. Salzer, assisted by his brothers, John A. and George Salzer, at the John Salzer summer residence, Ferndale.

The group is composed of prominent financiers, business and professional men from five states. They arrived last night and this morning, gathering at the Stoddard hotel. At noon today they proceeded by auto and the Salzer launch, Sunbeam, to Ferndale.

A baseball game featured the party this afternoon.

The party consists of the following:

Chicago—Hon. Louis Stebbins, district judge; William P. Smith, president of a big Chicago insurance company; H. B. Keck, associated with Mr. Smith; Dr. James H. Stowell and Fred J. Ringley, printing and advertising.

Minneapolis—Frederick A. Gross, banker and park commissioner; William T. Tscharner, president Mercantile State bank; J. H. Savage, banker; George Salzer, lumberman.

Milwaukee—Ernest W. Kremers, wholesale druggist, and Dr. J. A. Berkel.

Col. Charles A. Johnson hails from Fairfax, S. D., and J. V. Brokaw from Quincy, that state; E. J. Henning, formerly a prominent member of the Milwaukee bar, is now a resident of San Diego, Cal.

Local members of the party are George W. Burton, John C. Burns, Gus Dollert and Frank H. Burgess.

The party will spend Saturday and Sunday at Ferndale.

KOLB-HAMMON CASE WILL BE SETTLED IN COMING WEEK

Local Boys' Application for Pardon Will Be Decided After Six-year Campaign

John Kolb and Charles Hammon, local boys under life sentence in Stillwater prison, will know the result of their six-year fight for pardon some time next week. This was definitely promised to Mrs. R. B. Harris, 1413 Charles street, by Chief Justice Brown of Minnesota, whom she met yesterday in St. Paul.

Owing to Governor Hammond's speaking dates at fairs, the trip of the executive and his pardon board to Stillwater, to visit the local boys and Orlin Kalderwitt, who is serving with them for the same offence, took place Wednesday instead of Thursday.

The governor and his board had a long talk with each of the trio convicted for the murder of little Freddie King at Columbia Heights in 1908. Next week the board will reach its decision concerning their innocence, which was stoutly maintained by all three.

MAN ALLEGED BIGAMIST

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 24.—Charles E. George, wealthy lawyer, publisher and member of a number of the most exclusive clubs in New Orleans, who is named in Milwaukee in an affidavit charging him with bigamy, is "at the fair in San Francisco" according to caretakers at his mansion here today. The affidavit charged that George had four wives, none of whom ever had been divorced.

STARVED CREW REFUSES TO GO

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—Twelve members of the crew of the schooner Scheerfield, who were found semi-conscious from starvation and thirst aboard their ship off the Florida coast, near Pensacola, by the steamship Momus, refused to leave the vessel, and after their food and water supply had been replenished, resumed their voyage, the Momus reported on its arrival here today. The Scheerfield had been becalmed for several days.

BRITISHER IS SUNK CREW IS RESCUED

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The British steamer Urbino has has been sunk by a submarine, the admiralty announced tonight. The crew was saved.

THIRD ARREST IS MADE IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST RESORTS

Mrs. Anna Lowry Brought Into Court This Afternoon as Result of Third Raid Yesterday

Charged with operating a disorderly house, Mrs. Anna Lowry, 403 North Third street, was scheduled to face Police Judge Clinton W. Hunt at 3 o'clock this afternoon, the third alleged keeper of a resort to be arrested by the police within a week. Mrs. Lowry was arrested late yesterday afternoon.

When arraigned before Judge Hunt yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Lowry denied the charge placed against her. The case was set for trial at 9 o'clock this morning, but continued when the time arrived until this afternoon.

The case is the third of its kind within a week. Linley law proceedings were started against Sadie Stone, 428 South Second street, as the result of the first raid late Saturday. Property at 211 Pine street will be torn down by the owner as the result of the second raid, Monday night.

HUNT BIGAMIST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Detectives were hunting in and around the exposition grounds today for Charles E. George, charged in Milwaukee with bigamy. Mrs. Ida L. George sued the millionaire here three years ago for separate maintenance, alleging that when he married her a year previously he already had a wife in Boston and another in Chicago.

BOY IS CRUSHED WHEN AUTO BRAKES FAIL ON A HILL

His Mother and Sister Are Badly Injured in Accident Mile East of Spring Grove

YOUTH IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Car Gets Beyond Control and Turns Turtle at a Sharp Turn Hit at Mile a Minute

Mark Sherburn, 14, will probably die, Miss Jessie Sherburn, 18, lies in a half conscious state with both arms broken and Mrs. Charles Sherburn, mother of the boy and girl, has one arm broken and is internally injured as the result of the failure of the brakes of their automobile, yesterday afternoon, as the car plunged down a steep hill one-quarter of a mile in length, just east of Spring Grove.

Boy Still Senseless

The Sherburns reside nine miles east of Spring Grove. They had been shopping and were on their way home. Mrs. Sherburn was accompanied by her two children. The boy has not regained consciousness since the accident. It is thought that the mother and daughter will recover.

As the automobile started down the long grade Mrs. Sherburn applied the brakes of the car. They failed to work. The engine, in gear but with the power shut off, failed to hold the car. As the steepest part of the hill was reached, the transmission refused to work, and it was afterwards found that it had broken from the strain.

There was nothing to do but for the family to sit in the car as it sped on to almost certain death for the occupants. There was little chance of them saving their lives by jumping.

Turns Over at Curve

A sharp curve lay at the bottom of the decline, and the car toppled as Mrs. Sherburn endeavored to make the turn with the machine traveling a mile a minute. Spring Grove automobile owners today said that it would be impossible for the best driver to make the turn with a car traveling at the speed of the Sherburn machine.

Mark Sherburn, Mrs. Sherburn's son, was sitting with her in the front seat. His sister sat alone in the rear seat. As the car, tipping on two wheels, turned turtle he was buried underneath it, and his sister and mother thrown several feet. The fact that they were thrown probably saved their lives. The boy's head was crushed, and physicians at Spring Grove said today his skull was fractured.

The party was not found at the bottom of the hill for an hour after the accident, none of them being able to summon aid.

ONE AMERICAN SOLDIER KILLED IN FIGHT WITH MEXICANS ON BORDER

Viroqua Judge Loses Job By Drew Ruling

Cannot Hold County Judgeship Because He Has Not Filed Refusal to Serve on the School Board

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 23.—Deputy Attorney General Walter C. Drew has handed down an opinion that the county judgeship of Vernon county is vacant. He was informed that D. O. Mahoney, Viroqua, elected county judge in 1913, had since ben elected to the school board and had failed to file his refusal to accept the latter position within the prescribed time.

PLAN FOR MINERS IS THOUGHT DEATH KNELL FOR UNIONS

Rockefeller's "Representative Plan" Not Looked Upon Favorably by Union Leaders

GRIEVANCE MEN WILL BE HEARD

Plan Is for Miners to Select Representatives to Lay Grievances Before Officials

DENVER, Col., Sept. 24.—A death blow to any chance of recognition of unions in Rockefeller's vast Colorado holdings, was the interpretation union leaders here placed on the "representative form of labor," which, the Rockefeller lieutenants announced last night would be put into effect. Opponents of union labor here, as well as labor leaders, expressed belief that the so-called Starr J. Murphy plan would squelch all form of unionism as far as Rockefeller interests are concerned, as effectively as it has been squelched among the great army of employes of all Standard Oil holdings.

The announced plan provides for representatives to be chosen by the men, to whom all grievances are submitted. Decisions by these representatives may be appealed direct to higher up officials. Every effort is to be made to prevent sub-bosses from discriminating against workers who have appealed from their decisions.

In every instance of appeal for betterment either of working conditions or wages, the petitioner will be treated as an individual. He will have no standing if he petitions as representing a union or as a member of a union.

According to the plan no man is to be discriminated against if he belongs to the union. The men will be permitted to organize as Rockefeller employes, but affiliation with the United Mine workers of America or any other union will be frowned upon.

The plan has practically been in effect for some time, and Rockefeller officials claim it has done much to alleviate conditions which existed before and just after the recent strike.

William Diamond, ranking official of the miners here, declared there was no union organization in or near any of the Rockefeller camps. Denying Rockefeller's reported statement that there was no discrimination between union and non-union applicants, Diamond said that there were less than a dozen union men in Rockefeller's employ at present and in each case their union affiliation was a secret.

A committee from international headquarters at Indianapolis was in enver today conferring with A. M. Belcher, general counsel for the miners' union on the organization's future policy in Colorado. The question of bringing action against Rockefeller and other coal operators for deaths in the union's ranks during the recent strike was also under consideration.

ALLIES REINFORCED

ATHENS, via Berlin Wireless, Sept. 24.—The allied forces at the Dardanelles have been reinforced by the arrival of 110,000 fresh troops.

ARRIVAL OF HELP SAVES DETACHMENT FROM ANNIHILATION

Fatal Battle Takes Place Near Progreso and Reinforcements Drive Off Mexicans

ANOTHER BATTLE IN PROGRESS

Ten Mexicans Are Reported Killed in Battle Between County Officers and Bandits

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 24.—Private Stubblefield was killed and Captain A. V. P. Anderson and Private Cecil W. Kennedy was wounded when thirty Mexicans fired on ten American soldiers who were sleeping in an arroyo near Progreso, Texas, shortly before daybreak today. The soldiers, taken by surprise, deserted their guns and fled, in danger of annihilation until reinforcements arrived.

The Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande above Progreso under cover of darkness and eluded soldiers who were guarding the banks. The main detachment, stationed four miles from where the attack took place, hurried to the scene and found the camp entirely stripped of equipment. Troop B of the Twelfth cavalry was summoned from Mercedes and is leading in the search for the Mexicans.

Excitement is high in Mercedes and it is feared an attempt will be made to lynch the bandits if they are captured.

Soldiers sent out from Mercedes are searching for Mexicans, who scattered into the brush. The telephone wires between Mercedes and the river have been cut, rendering communication with that district very slow.

Another battle between Americans and Mexicans, which was still in progress at noon, was reported to have resulted in the death of ten Mexicans and the wounding of five others. The fight was taking place between county officers and bandits cn the line betwen Hidalgo and Starr counties. No American casualties were reported.

Seventy-five Mexicans were surrounded in the brush this afternoon near the scene of this morning's battle. Troops are being rushed from every quarter and it is believed there is no chance for the Mexicans to escape.

A band of Mexicans attempted to loot the Asaenz general store in Progreso during the excitement which followed news of the battle were driven off by three soldiers left on guard. One of the Mexicans was killed and another wounded.

Private Stubblefield was from Stone Gap, Virginia. Private Kennedy's home is in Central Lake, Mich.

INSPECT ROADS

The La Crosse county road and bridge committee, composed of A. N. Moore, Adolph Nuttlemtn, L. C. Holm, Carl Hilke, Orrin Fletcher, Herman Pammel and A. T. Mathewson and County Clerk Bert A. Jolivette are inspecting roads and bridges in the town of Washington today. They are looking over spots where repairing and new roads are proposed. The trip is being made in automobiles.

WOOD TO GET TEMPLAR BURIAL

JANESVILLE, Wis., Sept. 24.—Local members of the Knights Templar order have cabled authorities in England to give Dr. Edward F. Wood, who went down with the ill-fated Arabic, a Templar burial. Word reached here today that Dr. Wood's body has been identified by a cousin living near Canterbury, England. The remains will be buried near London.

VERDICT OF GUILTY RETURNED

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Sept. 24.—After remaining out since 4 o'clock yesterday, a jury today brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree against Clay Phalen. The defendant was charged with the murder of Edward Wamboldt, known as "Port Washington Ed" in a saloon brawl here.

INDUSTRY SCHOOLS TO OPEN OCT. 4

New Attendance Record Is Looked for When the Enrollment Is Complete

The La Crosse industrial day and evening schools will reopen Monday, October 4. The date of enrollment for the evening schools is Friday, October 1, at the Longfellow, High and Logan schools. These schools have been in operation for the past three years, with an encouraging increase in attendance each year. Seven hundred and ninety-three students took 963 subjects last year, and the attendance for the coming year promises to exceed that. Miss Grace Gesell, Miss Cora Kempter, Mr. John Stuckert and Mr. George Frey have resigned from the faculty. Mr. W. C. Greenwalt, principal of the Washburn school, will instruct the classes in English for foreigners on the south side and Mr. R. R. Mitchell of the manual training department will handle classes in woodworking at the Longfellow school. All north side classes will meet at the Logan school and annex. In remodeling of that building special consideration was given to the convenience and comfort of the evening school students.

In connection with the day continuation school attention is called to the new law requiring that all boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 17 years, who are employed, attend the continuation school for a period of five hours, once a week. Previous to the passing of this bill, attendance was required of students not attending the regular schools, between the ages of 14 and 16 years only.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

LOVE'S WITCHCRAFT

BY CAROL HAINES

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The little curio shop was on the uptown side of the street, Sonia had said, about five doors west of the elevated. She had looked so beautiful and fragile lying on the hospital bed, Tillie thought sorrowfully. It made no difference how little cash might be on hand, every morning Tillie went up to see her to make sure she was cared for and tended properly and find out if she wanted any errands done.

"You dear, silly old Tillie," she had said tenderly, her arms clasped back of her head, "you can't do anything for me. I'll be here months, they say, and even then I'll never be able to dance any more."

"Don't you care, Miss Sonia," Tillie had said stoutly. "There's lots of folks whose souls have to limp on crutches all their earthly lives, and yours has wings."

Sonia would be silent, but smile that rare smile of hers that fairly stole the heart of you. She was twenty-three, and it had only been four months since she had come to New York to dance her beautiful Russian dances and make a fortune. Then one night, as she had been returning from the theater, her car had crashed into another and she had been injured. And, after slow months of pain, her money had gradually slipped away, like her new found friends, until only Tillie, the little blackeyed east side maid, remained faithful. Now, to her hands, Sonia intrusted her last treasure. She had held it back from sentiment, and yet she did not know the donor.

It had come to her the first night in New York—sent without a card in a bouquet of gardenias, heavy with fragrance. Often she loved to open the ivory velvet case, with its corners of gold, and look at the curious gem. It was rounded on one side and concaved on the other, something like a reducing glass. And it changed color almost constantly. It was a superstition, of course, but Sonia came to fancy that on the days when she was happy the gem was clear and rose tinted, brilliant and perfect, but when she was unhappy or ill it clouded and dulled into a pearl tone, deeper and deeper like twilight.

Without a penny left, she had given it to Tillie to dispose of, and Tillie went unwillingly up the steep, narrow stairs of the old-fashioned building into the shop on the second floor. There was one other customer bending over a case in a dim corner. At a desk in the back sat an old man, working with delicate tools at a hand-chased bracelet. He came forward slowly and took the case from her hand.

"I want to sell it, said Tillie in her most business-like way.

"Where did you get this?" asked the man, after a pause.

"From the lady I work for. She don't want her name used."

He walked around the cases to where the other man stood and spoke in a low but audible tone, for Tillie's ears were sharp.

"It has come to us of its own volition, prince."

The other took the case and regarded the gem in silence, but Tillie caught a glimpse of his face. Surely it was very handsome, she thought, and the old man had said prince. Tillie's east-side heart began to flutter excitedly. Her voice trembled when he came to her and questioned her in his deep rich voice, as courtly and kind as could be. But still she was stubborn. No, she would not tell the lady's name. She was sick, and it was not right.

"And she wishes to dispose of this, yes?"

"Right away. She ain't got any money for anything. And she'll never dance again. She broke her ankles I guess, and something went wrong with her back, too, when the car smashed up."

"Ah, so? She is in her own home, yes?"

"No. In the hospital, and if we don't sell this she'll be a charity case next week. Oh, won't you buy it, please?"

The dealer spoke up.

"It is the same, is it not, sir?"

The prince bowed his head, looking at the gem as it lay now in his palm.

"I will purchase it from her," he said. "I will make out the check, and you will see that it is certified for me, Stoll. Listen, my girl. I will not buy this gem, tell your mistress, but I will make her a loan on it, for I have no right to take advantage of her circumstances, and it is worth far more than she realizes. I will give you a check for five thousand now. If she needs more you will come back here and tell Stoll what you require. That is all."

"What's your royal highness' name," asked Tillie bravely. "She'll want to know."

He detached a seal charm from a black silk fob and gave it to her.

"You may give this to her in surety for her gem."

Tillie never forgot the face of Sonia Lavliloff when she looked upon the charm. The check lay on the cover-lid unnoticed, but the color came into the girl's face and she tried to rise on her elbow.

"Take it back to him," she ordered. "And the check. I might have known where the gem came from, but Persia is far away. You will take it back at once. Wait, Tillie, I will tell you something, for you have been kind to me, and my one friend here. I danced by royal order before the Persian court, and there was one, Prince Altair Cassam Bey." Her eyes closed as she spoke softly. "You have seen him, so you will not wonder that I cared for him, but I returned to Russia and came straight to America, fleeing from my own love for him. Now he has followed me, I cannot accept his charity, tell him. And the gem is his. He should not have sent it to me."

But Tillie, being from the east side and wise in her own generation and hour, went downstairs to the public telephone and called up Mr. Stoll for advice. Never before had romance lighted like a bird of paradise on Tillie's shoulder, and she could not bear to shoo it away.

Mr. Stoll was greatly interested. He would notify the prince, he told her, at once, and doubtless he would know what course to pursue. Tillie waited in the reception room nervously, but before the street lights flashed in the gathering dusk a closed limousine rolled up to the curb and the prince alighted.

"You did right, little maid," he told her, with his rare smile. "You shall choose your own gift at the bridal of your lady."

Tillie followed him upstairs timidly and sat on the edge of a hall chair while he went into the little private room in response to Sonia's faint call at his rap. The silence seemed filled with song and beauty and high hopes, and the tears fell happily from Tillie's eyes as she felt herself to be a herald of happiness to her lady.

Finally the door opened and the prince called her.

"You will stay with her constantly," he said gently. "I will make all arrangements for her removal tonight." He bent over the cot with yearning tenderness. "Sonia, we will find the sea first, and rest there until you are well, my bride. I bless the sacred gem that brought you back to me."

After he had gone, Sonia smiled at the wide-eyed Tillie.

"He sent me the gem himself, Tillie," she said. "It is supposed to have magical qualities for bringing back a lost love; and you see what it has done for us. We are to be married now. He has sought for me all through Europe and now here, and he sent it to me secretly the night before the accident, and then lost me again. Stoll was watching for it in every pawnshop and dealer's in the city and, lo, you, my Tillie, were Love's messenger and agent. I shall get well and strong, now. Half a world away he came for me, and to marry me, Tillie. I had not dreamed that he loved me so."

Tillie beamed on her joyfully.

"I can't go way off to Persia with you, Miss Sonia, but I'd love to see you doing the princess act over there. I always said you had that royal way with you. But who'd have thought a piece of shiny glass could do all that?"

Sonia held the gem on her palm smilingly. It was clear and radiant with perfect gleams of color.

"It is love's witchcraft," she said softly. "We must not question it, only bless whatever power gave me to him."

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

She Never Stopped Until She Reached the Sick Baby's Bed.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Bibbley Wah Goes Calling on the French Baby.

"TELL us another Bibbley Wah story, daddy!" cried the kiddies.

"All right," said daddy. "Bibbley Wah's uncle had a wonderful farm, and about a mile away down a hill lived his gardener, who was a Frenchman with a huge family of children that Bibbley Wah thought the most interesting kiddies in the world. They all had very blue eyes and straight tow hair and bare feet, and they seemed never to have to be washing their hands and faces, like all Bibbley Wah's other friends."

"How many little Frenchies were there?" asked Evelyn.

"Eleven. And Bibbley Wah used to hug the baby, who looked something like a billiken, until he squealed. Once a week Bibbley Wah's mother used to let her and the boys go to play with the Frenchies. Their mother used to serve them all with delightful bread that she called 'Marie Antoinette's cake.

"Because when the hungry mob in Paris came under the queen's window and cried they had no bread to eat Marie Antoinette said, 'Then let them eat cake!' The French mother used to give the kiddies all this bread and lemonade they could hold.

"One day the gardener told Bibbley Wah that his baby was very sick with measles. This made her very sad. She picked nice little bouquets of wild flowers, saved up three pennies and her favorite dessert, which the poor sick baby could not eat, and sent them to him by the gardener. But most of all she wanted to see the baby."

"She would catch the measles, wouldn't she?" cried Jack.

"We shall see," said daddy, "for Bibbley Wah watched her chance. The first time Bobbie and Jim went on an errand and she was left alone she ran down the hill as fast as her fat little legs could carry her. She never stopped till she reached the sick baby's bed.

"She played with the baby and gave him his milk that he would not take for his mother until a hot, cross Bobbie dashed into the room and snatched her home.

"He tugged her up the hill so fast that Bibbley Wah's little legs hardly touched the ground."

"Did her mother punish her?" asked Evelyn.

"No. But her mother explained about catching diseases and made her promise not to go calling on sick people without permission."

"Did she get the measles?" asked Jack.

"No. She was such a sturdy little kiddie that she only got a health lesson."

A "BOOB" OR A HESSIAN

What of Mr. Archibald, who carried an Austrian message and was commended for zealous service by the German ambassador

"The man without a country," say severe critics.

Much depends. Archibald may be an indiscreet journalist or an arch criminal. If, without knowing its contents or realizing his offense, he acted as messenger boy for Dumba, he deserves no more than a spanking and much less than the contumely now heaped upon him. If he took pay for a secret service with the character of which he was familiar, he is a Hessian.

But Archibald is on trial before a competent court—the United States government. He is an American. Let us await the verdict. We do not want hastily to inflict worse than capital punishment upon a foolish young man.

ONE OVER ON FRIEND WIFE

A wise man will not let his wife shovel snow or mow the lawn, but the neighbors can't see the furnace.

CLEARY ON "USURPATION"

No success can come of the recent movement by the states to usurp the functions of insurance companies The state is not equipped to enter such business in competition with private corporations, because insurance and particularly fire insurance, is a gamble and no state can afford to gamble

Thus our own "Jimmy" Cleary, St. Ins. Com., who instead of trying to practically administer the laws of Wisconsin, legislatively and judicially declares them worthless. He tipped it off at the convention of state insurance commissioners at Del Monte, California.

"The state is usurping the functions of the insurance companies," says Jimmy. "Usurping!" Isn't it rich! And this champion of democracy holds a state office. How dare you, Mrs. State, take the pudding away from the hired girl! And as to "gambling"—"the state gambling." Jim, you set in for a while and watch the hole in the table. Not much gamble about that hole, eh, Jimmy? And you know it is just that hole that Mrs. State wants to take away from your jolly Ins. friends. Why, when Mother State says, "Kitty, kitty, kitty," do you scare the cat? Don't you know, Jimsey, where that Billion Dollar war loan would have to come from?

THE AMERICAN CAMPAIGN

You've got to give it to those Germans—you've just got to give it to 'em.

But all this talk of peril to America is silly rot.

Von Hindenberg may take Dvinsk; he may seize the Petrograd railroad and prance gaily on to the Slav capital.

But he will not capture the headlines until the great American campaign is finished.

Grand Duke Pat Moran and Field Marshal von Bill Carrigan are the Goliaths to whom the public eye is riveted. You may sing me a Joffre and I'll sing you "Smoky" Joe Wood; my von Mackensen is an Alexander. Where my battle rages a forty-two centimeter ash stick is dropping the horsehide over the right field fence.

And who shall say that a land that produced Hans Wagner and Ty Cobb need tremble before British superdreadnaught or German submarine!

Welcome, little World Series! We need two weeks' relief from contemplation of terrors that stir us to burning depths, the horrors of which we deprecate, the magnitude of which we cannot comprehend.

LOCAL BANKS DECIDE WISELY

We are pleased with the decision of the La Crosse bankers not to buy war bonds, should the proposed loan to the allies be consummated. We doubt if participation in an immense and unsecured loan would meet the approval of a majority of depositors here. As usual, La Crosse banks have taken that conservative stand which has kept their soundness unimpaired in times of financial stress.

TRAINING AND USE

The plan to strengthen athletic training in the city schools by means of instruction provided by undergraduates in the State Normal athletic training school seems to offer valuable results. It is a step toward greater athletic efficiency in the schools and it provides practical experience for the student trainers. We are spending considerable money upon play grounds and gymnasia, and teachers to promote the efficiency of their use are desirable.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Shine Where You Are

Don't waste your time in longing
For bright, impossible things;
Don't sit supinely yearning
For the swiftness of wings;
Don't spurn to be in rush-light
Because you are not a star,
But brighten some bit of darkness
By shining just where you are.

There is need of the tiniest candle.
As well as the garish sun;
The humblest deed is ennobled
When it is worthily done;
You may never be called to brighten
The darkness regions afar;
So fill for the day, your mission
By shining just where you are:
—John Hay.

The Relationship

Mrs. Swiftely and her former husband were still friends. Noting the similarity of names and their familiar manner toward each other, a lady who was a guest with them at a week-end party, thought they must be cousins.

"Is Mr. Swiftely a connection of yours?" she asked.

"No," laughed Mrs. Swiftely. "A disconnection."—Judge.

His Father's Caste

Private Hodges sat in his tent trying to clean his rifle, according to the London Chronicle.

"Here!" he shouted, running out. "Wanted in the orderly room," said the sergeant, and Hodges followed him with bulging eyes and a sad heart. But he cheered up when the adjutant addressed him thus:

"I have a letter from your father. He is anxious to purchase your discharge, as he needs you to help him in his business," remarked the adjutant, looking at him keenly. "Now, Private Hodges, what is your father's walk in life?"

Hodge's eyes bulged more than ever.

"P-please, sir," he blurted, "he's b-b-bandy-legged."

One on the Prosecution

At a recent trial one of the witnesses was a green countryman, unused to the ways of the law, but quick, as it proved, to understand its principles. After a severe cross examination the counsel for the prosecution paused and then, putting on a look of severity, exclaimed:

"Mr. Kilkins, has not an effort been made to induce you to tell a different story?"

"A different story from what I told, sir?"

"That is what I mean!"

"Yes, sir; several persons have tried to get me to tell a different story from what I have told, but they couldn't."

"Now, sir, upon your oath, I wish to know who those persons are."

"Well, I guess you've tried 'bout as hard as any of them."

Mollified

Displeased Parent—Molly, I find you have been buying three pairs of gloves without my permission. Why did you do it?

Miss Molly (aged 12)—Why, daddy, I was obliged to have some gloves. I hadn't a pair to wear.

Displeased Parent—It was very wrong of you to buy the gloves without asking either your mother or me about it.

Miss Molly—Well, never mind, daddy, dear; they won't cost anything. I had them charged.—New York Evening Post.

Read Part of It

She was from Boston and he was not.

He had spent a harrowing evening discussing authors of whom he knew nothing, and their books, of which he knew less.

Presently the maiden asked, archly:

"Of course, you've read 'Romeo and Juliet?'"

He floundered helplessly for a moment and then, having a brilliant thought, blurted out happily:

"I've—I've read Romeo."

Before and After

"Why, Sharpe, I'm glad to see you so lively again. You were quite lame when I last met you."

"Oh, yes; I was awfully lame then. But that was before I got a verdict of $1,000 against the railway company."

Had to Wake 'Em Up

"What is the hardest part of your work as a lecturer?" asked the man designated as toastmaster.

"As a rule," replied Mr. Speekins, "the hardest part of my work is waking the audience up after the man who introduces me has concluded his remarks."

KAZAN

By James Oliver Curwood

Author of The Danger Trail, The Honor of The Big Snows, Philip Steele, Etc.

Copyright 1914, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Cautiously he crept out from the thick gloom, working his way on his belly toward the packed sledge, and what remained of the burned logs. Beyond that sledge, hidden in the darkness of the trees, was the body of the man he had killed, covered with a blanket. Thorpe, his master, had dragged it there.

He lay down, with his nose to the warm coals and his eyes leveled between his forepaws, straight at the closed tent-flap. He meant to keep awake, to watch, to be ready to slink off into the forest at the first movement there. But a warmth was rising from out of the gray ash of the fire-bed, and his eyes closed. Twice—three times—he fought himself back into watchfulness; but the last time his eyes came only half open, and closed heavily again.

And now, in his sleep, he whined softly, and the splendid muscles of his legs and shoulders twitched, and suden shuddering ripples ran along his tawny spine. Thorpe, who was in the tent, if he had seen him, would have known that he was dreaming. And Thorpe's wife, whose golden head lay close against his breast, and who shuddered and trembled now and then even as Kazan was doing, would have known what he was dreaming about.

In his sleep he was leaping again at the end of his chain. His jaws snapped like castanets of steel—and the sound awakened him, and he sprang to his feet, his spine as stiff as a brush, and his snarling fangs bared like ivory knives. He had awakened just in time. There was movement in the tent. His master was awake, and if he did not escape—

He sped swiftly into the thick spruce, and paused, flat and hidden, with only his head showing from behind a tree. He knew that his master would not spare him. Three times Thorpe had beaten him for snapping at McCready. The last time he would have shot him if the girl had not saved him. And now he had torn McCready's throat. He had taken the life from him, and his master would not spare him. Even the woman could not save him.

Kazan was sorry that his master had returned, dazed and bleeding, after he had torn McCready's jugular. Then he would have had her always. She would have loved him. She did love him. And he would have followed her, and fought for her always, and died for her when the time came. But Thorpe had come in trom the forest again, and Kazan had slunk away quickly—for Thorpe meant to him what all men meant to him now: the club, the whip and the strange thing that spat fire and death. And now—

Thorpe had come out from the tent. It was approaching dawn, and in his hand he held a rifle. A moment later the girl came out, and her hand caught the man's arm. They looked toward the thing covered by the blanket. Then she spoke to Thorpe and he suddenly straightened and threw back his head.

"H-o-o— Kazan— Kazan— Kazan" he called.

A shiver ran through Kazan. The man was trying to inveigle him back. He had in his hand the thing that killed.

"Kazan—Kazan—K-a-a-a-zan!" he shouted again.

Kazan sneaked cautiously back from the tree. He knew that distance meant nothing to the cold thing of death that Thorpe held in his hand. He turned his head once, and whined softly, and for an instant a great longing filled his red-ened eyes as he saw the last of the girl.

He knew now that he was leaving her forever, and there was an ache in his heart that had never been there before, a pain that was not of the club or whip, of cold or hunger, but which was greater than them all, and which filled him with a desire to throw back his head and cry out his loneliness to the gray emptiness of the sky.

Back in the camp the girl's voice quivered.

"He is gone."

The man's strong voice choked a little.

"Yes, he is gone. He knew—and I didn't. I'd give a year of my life if I hadn't whipped him yesterday and last night. He won't come back."

Isobel Thorpe's hand tightened on his arm.

"He will!" she cried. "He won't leave me. He loved me, if he was savage and terrible. And he knows I love him. He'll come back—"

"Listen!"

From deep in the forest there came a long wailing howl, filled with a plaintive sadness. It was Kazan's farewell to the woman.

After that cry Kazan sat for a long time on his haunches, sniffing the new freedom of the air, and watching the deep black pits in the forest about him, as they faded away before dawn. Now and then, since the day the traders had first bought him and put him into sledge-traces away over on the Mackenzie, he had often thought of this freedom longingly, the wolf blood in him urging him to take it. But he had never quite dared. It thrilled him now. There were no clubs here, no whips, none of the man-beasts whom he had first learned to distrust, and then to hate. It was his misfortune—that quarter-strain of wolf; and the clubs, instead of subduing him, had added to the savagery that was born in him. Men had been his worst enemies. They had beaten him time and again until he was almost dead. They called him "bad," and stepped wide of him, and never missed the chance to snap a whip over his back. His body was covered with scars they had given him.

He had never felt kindness, or love, until the first night the woman had put her warm little hand on his head, and had snuggled her face close down to his, while Thorpe—her husband—had cried out in horror. He had almost buried his fangs in her white flesh, but in an instant her gentle touch, and her sweet voice, had sent through him that wonderful thrill that was his first knowledge of love. And now it was a man who was driving him from her, away from the hand that had never held a club or a whip, and he growled as he trotted deeper into the forest.

He came to the edge of a swamp as day broke. For a time he had been filled with a strange uneasiness, and light did not quite dispel it. At last he was free of men. He could detect nothing that reminded him of their hated presence in the air. But neither could he smell the presence of other dogs, of the sledge, the fire, of companionship and food, and so far back as he could remember they had always been a part of his life.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

STEAMER STOPPED

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—An unidentified British cruiser stopped the Southern Pacific steamer Momus off the Jersey coast and after an inspection of the liner allowed it to proceed to New Orleans, the officers of the liner reported on the arrival of the ship here today. Passengers, fearing the vessel was to be destroyed were panic stricken, according to the officers, but were quieted by announcement from the bridge that the inspection was only a formality. The incident occurred last Saturday night.

FOOD FOR WARRING NATION PASSES THROUGH THE CITY

Food shipments totalling hundreds of thousands of dollars consigned to the belligerent nations of Europe, have passed through the city within the past two days.

The first of a number of flour shipments to go through La Crosse this fall to the eastern cities and for export trade, went through the north side yards of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at 10:45 this morning, consigned to Baltimore. The shipment contained flour valued at half a million dollars, consigned from the Minneapolis Milling company. Sixty cars made up the special.

The food shipment was the second of two important consignments to the warring nations. Six stock trains, totalling thousands of head of cattle, were shipped through the city Thursday night over the road from the western states for consumption in Europe.

American horses are in great demand by the French for artillery use. The latest shipment passed through the north side yards of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad last night, billed to the French army in the field.

SAFETY FIRST TO FORM EXHIBIT AT FAIR NEXT WEEK

Final Plans Completed and General Committee Appointed at Meeting Held in City Hall

FIVE OF SIXTEEN RAILROAD MEN

I. J. Lockney, State Deputy for Western Wisconsin District, Promises to Be in City Entire Week

Upon motion of Secretary Storkerson the Safety First Round Table club last night unanimously voted to have a committee of four appointed to arrange for a quota of members for each day to take charge of the safety first exhibit at the fair next week. The men appointed by this committee will co-operate with I. J. Lockney, state deputy for the western district, who has promised to be in attendance at the exhibit during the entire week. The men appointed by the chair are W. J. Cook, chairman, John Rusche, E. J. Conway and D. S. Grieg.

Five "Q" Men

But sixteen members appeared at the meeting and five of the sixteen were employes of the Burlington railroad, John Rusche, shop foreman; H. G. Kastlin, master mechanic; F. C. Herrington, yardmaster; David Wartinbee, chief clerk at the club house, and J. Becker of the machine shop. [illegible] took occasion to voice his regret at the low attendance, and following up his statement that some plan must be devised to stimulate interest in the work, asked Mr. Kastlin the secret of the interest maintained among their employes by the Burlington railroad. Mr. Kastlin answered that positive instructions from headquarters made it imperative that the department heads take an active interest in safety first work, and that no expense is spared by the company in the work. These two facts were the basic causes for the interest, he said.

The Burlington road will exhibit a number of safety first pamphlets, posters and a bulletin board detailing the results attendant upon the organization of the safety first department of the road, in rate of accidents during the last year as compared to the number in 1912. Since the organization of the safety first department of the race he said that the number of employes killed was reduced 71 per cent, the number of injured 50 per cent, and the number of passengers injured about twenty-two per cent.

The matter of a safety bulletin, proposed as the official organ of the club, was put over to the next regular monthly meeting to be held the last Thursday in October. D. S. Grieg of the TRIBUNE was appointed a committee of one to determine the cost of publishing a pamphlet, and to submit his report at the October meeting. Mr. Greig was present at the meeting and declared that the principal item of expense to be incurred in the publishing of such a paper would be the cost of distribution, because the pound rate cannot be secured for pamphlets, newspapers and such periodicals for local distribution. The actual printing constituted a minor expense, he said.

To Name Comittees

All arrangements for the exhibit of the club have been made with the exception of the appointment of the members who will have charge of the tent during the fair. Several members will be delegated to serve different days. The exhibit will occupy a tent along the sidewalk approach to the exhibition building, and a number of exhibits have been received for the tent, while others which have been sent for will arrive in a few days.

Leonard A. Zeisler, manager of the La Crosse Box company, served as acting chairman of the meeting owing to the absence from the city of Louis Silberschmidt, president.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 24.—Seven silver teaspoons, a pin, a long straw, and a quantity of hair were taken from the stomach of a woman operated upon today at the State Insane hospital. When a nurse noted the woman put a silver spoon in her mouth the other day she attempted to get it, failed to get it and ordered an X-ray which was followed by the operation.

ALLEGED ROBBER OF ROOM MATE IS HELD IN ILLINOIS

Police Wire Description of John Morris and He Is Caught at Savanna

Charged with robbing his roommate, Harry Billdeau, of twenty dollars of his savings and most of his clothes, John Morris, 22, will be brought back from Savanna, Ill., late this afternoon. He was arrested at Savanna on a description wired by the police early this morning after Billdeau had reported his loss.

The two men were employed at the Rubber Mills. Morris quit yesterday and bought a ticket to Chicago late last night. He and Billdeau had roomed together at 1438 Loomis street.

Our good or bad fortune depends greatly on the choice we make of our friends.

MIDVALE CHANGES HANDS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—The Midvale Steel company was turned over to the new owners today. Arrangements for the sale to interests whose identity is kept a secret were said to have been made last night. The selling price is reported to amount to approximately $19,000,000.

In financial circles today the sale strengthened the belief that a gigantic combine of independent steel companies is about to be formed.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

BY J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Acceptance of the new British war taxes by the people of the United Kingdom is not emphasizing the real fact that the taxes are permanent burdens for future years. They are not a temporary war sacrifice, but must be continued indefinitely.

The financial waste of the war, and the staggering debts that are being piled on the people have not been suggested so vividly since the conflict began as by the new British budget. All the additional taxes that are being imposed can never be eliminated from future budgets, unless substitute taxes are found, or unless the peace expenditures of the government are reduced.

The new taxes will raise for Great Britain $10,000,000 a week. Every penny of this will be needed to pay the interest on the money which the United Kingdom either has borrowed for war purposes or immediately intends borrowing.

The people of the United Kingdom therefore, are in no sense paying for the war by the hard financial duty they are imposing on themselves. They are simply shouldering in advance of the other belligerents the cost of the permanent load of debt which the war is creating. Governments of the rest of the warring nations must soon follow the British example and if the war continues much longer, Great Britain must impose still further taxation to meet the interest on further borrowings.

The only way this dead weight can be evaded by any of the belligerents is by the collection of a war indemnity. But there is no prospect of indemnities being expected from either side.

AFTER YOU ARE FORTY

Forty is the age of greatest effort with most people. Vitality is used up at the most rapid pace. The struggle to secure a competence for old age produces nerve strain, the failure to succeed causes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia.

Middle-aged people find that they cannot run as fast, nor are they as agile as in youth. The internal organs also feel the effect of age. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red as formerly.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are certainly worthy of a trial in every case of weak nerves and thin blood.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklets on the blood and nerves.

AGRICULTURE AIDES PROVE VALUABLE

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 24.—What is a county agricultural representative worth?

According to the secretary of a cow testing association in Polk county his county representative saved him $300 last year by compounding a proper ration for his cows. By using the new ration this dairyman fed his cows less, and got greater returns.

Yet compounding the proper ration, using the feed on hand, is only one of the many tasks the representatives are called on to do. It is their duty, by helping the farmers in every possible way, to aid in the improvement of the agriculture of the counties. If a farmer wants the soil in his fields tested for acidity, or the cows in his barn tested for tuberculosis, the agent is there to get it done.

Not only do the representatives aid the farmers, but they help to train the young people by giving courses on agriculture in the county training schools; and by holding county short courses for the boys who have left school.

In addition to the twelve counties having representatives, other counties are considering employing them. In this work the state through the college of agriculture of the University of Wisconsin puts up part of the money to pay the representatives' salaries, and co-operates with the counties in securing good men.

DUMBA MAROONED CAN'T LEAVE UNTIL AUSTRIA ANSWERS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Austrian Ambassador Dumba is marooned. He must stay in this country until his government complies with the request for his recall. This was broadly hinted at today by high officials. That he will be allowed to return home "on leave" eventually, however, after compliance of the Austrian foreign office with this government's request, was confidently believed.

Word was expected from the Austrian government within a few days and probably before Dumba's proposed sailing next Tuesday. Notification formal and official from Austria that Dumba is being recalled, even "on leave" officials intimated today, would satisfy this government. A safe conduct would then be secured.

It is not believed in diplomatic quarters here that Dumba will dare risk arrest by British authorities by sailing without a safe conduct. The liner Rotterdam, on which he has engaged passage, stops at Falmouth.

Refusal of the state department to secure safe passage on Dumba's own personal and unofficial request until his government replies to the United States' note squarely raises the issue of his misconduct.

SOCIAL HOUR AT NORMAL

"Highly successful" was the verdict today following the first social hour of the year, held at the normal school yesterday. Dancing was the order of the afternoon. Mr. Long's appeal in the morning for a good attendance and a democratic spirit was productive of results, for the floor of the gymnasium was always filled with dancers and acquaintances increased by the score. There was frolic for everybody, dances for the old students, dances for the new, and even the balcony roared at Mr. Sherwood's aesthetic antics, which added spice to the entertainment. Miss Leonora Thompson and Mr. Gustav Heinemann rendered two short dances, which were enthusiastically received.

The social committee of the faculty which provides for similar entertainments is made up of the following members: Miss Bessie Hutchinson, Miss Dora Carver, Mr. Joel R. Moore, Mr. F. E. Nurse and Mr. Adolph Bernhard.

ALUMINUM SHOWER

Mrs. Dora Cohen entertained on Wednesday at an aluminum shower given in honor of Miss Til Lamprecht, who will be among the October brides. The reception and dining rooms were decorated with cut flowers and plants of the season. Red and white ribbons hung from the chandeliers with Cupids in the center and Cupid place cards were attached to the ends of the ribbons. Many useful gifts were given to the bride-elect. The invited guests were Mesdames Curley, H. F. Knothe, O. Elbertson, J. R. Fess, S. Paulson, E. Hilbert, F. Swan, W. Lamprecht, G. Dollert, F. Nelson. A. Lassie, S. Drake, H. Schaller and E. Olson and the Misses Hazel Schaller, and Miss Delia Ostrander. The Misses Helen May and Mabel Cohen assisted in the serving.

EMBROIDERY CLUB

Mrs. Major Downs of 722 Avon street, entertained the Embroidery club Thursday afternoon. The time was spent in fancy work and conversation. Refreshments were served at four o'clock. Those present were Mesdames R. A. Fischer, A. Gilbertson, Guy Wells, Paul Keck, Allie Graff, Edward Erickson, Esther Gilbertson, S. P. Luedke and Miss Ruth Keck.

WEEK-END PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Dunham will entertain at a week-end party at the Traer farm. The guests will be Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pryor, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thwing, Mr. and Mrs. David Ross Drake, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barber and Francis Drake of Boston.

SURPRISE MRS. OTT

Mrs. Joseph A. Ott was very pleasantly surprised at a parcel shower Wednesday afternoon given at her home, 1430 Wood street. A light lunch was served. Those present were the Mesdames A. Bergeson, Guy Wells, E. F. Briebach, W. A. Shay, Dave Wartinbee, John Coughlin, Peter Ruud, E. D. Wagner, P. Ruud O. G. Spear, W. A. Edwards, E. C. Loughlan, G. E. Osterhout, C. R. Ott, E. W. Forslund, Joseph Ott, Sr., E. Erickson, M. Bates, George Bates A. Gilbertson, Ben Halverson and Vogal and the Misses Anna Ott and Mary O'Keefe.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. A. M. Brayton entertained today at a six o'clock supper a party of normal students in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Inez Brayton. Covers were laid for fifteen at an attractively decorated table which was centered with a handsome birthday cake. Games and music were the entertainment of the evening.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William Tetley were agreeably surprised Wednesday evening at their home, 211 South Sixth street, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The rooms were attractively decorated with assorted fall flowers. Refreshments were served at a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Tetley were presented with several handsome articles in sterling silver by their guests. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames John Rehfuss, Conrad Kolls, Henry Palmer, Michel Lehrbach, W. E. Walker, Andrew Sletten, W. F. Reinoehl, Theodore Dahl and Howard Tetley, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Heddrich, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Barr, Mrs. J. S. O'Connor and Miss Gertrude Scott. The Misses Esther Dahl, Bernice Tetley and Vera Keizer assisted in the serving.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Miss Ada Ganschow and Miss Clara Zastrow spent yesterday in Caledonia.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, 1224 Madison street, a boy, this morning at St. Anns Hospital.

Miss Marion Oswald, 123 South Fifth street, is in Chicago in attendance at the annual Fashion show.

FOREIGN PAPERS SHOWN TO STUDENTS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 24.—An exhibit of foreign newspapers showing the effect of the European war, has been arranged by Professor W. G. Bleyer of the course in Journalism of the University of Wisconsin. Professor Bleyer has collected samples of English, German, French, and other European newspapers and he has copies even from South Africa, Singapore, and other far away countries. An interesting feature is the contest bills, poster-like, which the English newspapers used for front pages. These in color and in the size of type outplay the wildest efforts of American journalism. An entire page is devoted to three or four words in immense wood type.

The moments of mirth become hours of folly, unless they are regulated by the dial of reason.

WAR ODDITIES

LONDON—One result of the submarine war is that Grimsby, a British coast fishing city, has been obliged to import fish, the Grimsby trawlers feeling safer in port.

LONDON—Because of the necessity for Sunday harvest work, due to scarcity of labor on account of war, the rector of Thornham Magna, Suffolk, first conducts brief Sunday services in the fields and then lends a hand to the work.

LONDON—A mother at Sudbury, Norfolk, learned of the death of her two soldier sons in Northern France, killed by the same shell.

MANCHESTER—One of the pontoons with which the Turks made their famous attempt to cross the Suez canal is now doing duty as an ornament in a Manchester park.

CAIRO—Arrangements are in progress to furnish Egypt with a new coinage to mark its independence of Turkey.

LONDON—Lord Kitchener has advised British medical students now in their fourth or fifth year not to join the army, but to finish their medical education in order to qualify as soon as possible.

ZURICH—Peasant wood carvers of Switzerland have turned their industry almost completely into the manufacture of artificial limbs for mutilated soldiers.

PARIS—Turkish prisoners quartered on an island in the Aegean sea are furnished an aeroplane mail service by the French government which allows them to write and receive letters.

AMSTERDAM—All German military commanders, with one exception—General Falkenhayn—are between 65 and 72 years old. Falkenhayn is 59.

GENEVA—The alarmed bleating of a lamb—mascot of a regiment of Italian Bersaglieri—near Monte Nero, led to the discovery of an attempted enemy surprise and caused the defeat of the Austrians with heavy loss.

ASKS COURT TO RESTORE HIS NAME

Jacob Kellner, known in La Crosse as Jacob Mickschl, today appealed to Judge John Brindley to have his proper name, "Kellner" restored. The request was granted.

Kellner's father, according to his story to county court deserted Kellner's mother and her family when Kellner was of the age of two years. His mother then took the name of Mickschl, the name she bore before she was married.

Kellner was brought up with that name, and now he thinks he ought to be called by his father's name.

TEUTON AND RUSS BOTH SUCCESSFUL IN DAY'S FIGHTING

Germans Recapture Two Villages Near Riga and Slavs Are Victorious Around Dvinsk

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, Sept. 24.—German troops have recaptured the villages of Rose and Strigge, thirty-four miles southeast of Riga, it was officially announced this afternoon.

"The Bavarians under Prince Leopold, have broken the Russian resistance on a wide front,' the official statement declared.

The war office admitted that strong Russian attacks have forced General Mackensen to retreat behind the Oginski canal, temporarily abandoning his attempts to reach the Vilna-Rovno railway. The Russians are attempting to envelop Mackensen's flanks.

Petrograd Claims Success

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—Brilliant victories at both ends of the long battle front were claimed in official dispatches to the war office today. General Russky has beaten back with heavy losses German forces who attempted to approach the Dwina river twenty-five miles east of Riga. General Ivanoff has captured four villages from the Austrians, taking more than 1,500 prisoners.

The Germans are renewing their attacks on the Russian positions west and southwest of Dvinsk. A great battle is developing, but the czar's troops are holding their own.

In the southeastern theater the Russians are again on the offensive and are driving the enemy westward on a 150 mile front. Large captures of guns and ammunition are being made.

The Russian military authorities regard the withdrawal from the very difficult position near Vilna, which for a time seriously menaced a large army, as virtually completed. They assert the Germans have lost 250,000 men in their recent operations in this region.

DID LA CROSSE FURNISH FIRST PAIR FOR JUDGE?

Winona Papers Say Successor of "Marrying Justice" Vance Married Two Yesterday

Did Miss Mae Fradett of La Crosse and Julius Skappel, also of this city, induct Robert E. Looby of Winona into the full realization of his duties as successor to the late "marrying justice D. E. Vance yesterday?

The Winona papers today printed lengthy stories, telling how Judge Looby married his first couple in the stead of his late predecessor. Miss Fradette—or is it Mrs. Skappel?—denied that she was even in Winona, and insists she was not married. Skappel, bridegroom perhaps, is hunting, his sister said. She said he left for the marshes yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The Winona papers say the wedding took place yesterday at 2:05 in the afternoon.

Here is the Winona story of the wedding:

"The ceremony was performed shortly after 2:05 o'clock in the probate court room. The parties in the marriage were Julius Skappel and Mae Fradett, both of La Crosse, Wis. The witnesses were Miss Harriet Maybury, deputy in the office of the judge of probate, and Miss Louise Roesner, deputy in the abstract office in the court.

Ceremony is Brief

"Mr. and Mrs. Skappel had procured a license earlier in the day. At 2 o'clock they came to the judge's office and told him they desired to be married. The judge came out from behind his work table and standing before the couple performed the ceremony. The ceremony he used was simple and short and following their joining of hands the judge congratulated the couple as did the witnesses."

RULING IS ASKED ON JITNEY SERVICE TO FAIR GROUNDS

Will there be motor service between downtown La Crosse and the fair grounds next week?

The answer to the above question depends upon a ruling by Attorney General Walter Owen, which has been asked by City Attorney J. E. Higbee, concerning the application of the recently passed jitney regulations which require machines traveling for hire to take out $5,000 bonds and submit to the regulation of the railroad commission. Mr. Higbee expects the ruling of Attorney General Owen tomorrow.

BISHOP NORBY WILL SPEAK AT GALE DEDICATION

La Crosse Churchman to Deliver Chief Address When Gym and Dormitory Are Opened

La Crosse will be represented on the speaking program at the dedicatory exercises commemorating the completion of the new dormitory and gymnasium addition to Gale college at Galesville. The exercises will be held next Sunday. A large delegation of friends of the college will accompany the Rev. J. Nordby of La Crosse to Galesville, it is expected. Rev. Nordby will deliver the main Norwegian address of the morning session beginning at 10:30.

No pains or expense have been spared in providing accommodations for the large number of people who are expected to be in Galesville from the surrounding counties, according to information from those in charge of arrangements. Dinner will be served at noon at the college.

The dedicatory exercises will not only mark the completion of the new building, the gymnasium of which was used the latter part of the last semester, but they will commemorate the fifty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the school. The combination of gymnasium and dormitory in one building provides adequate educational facilities at a minimum expense.

GREEK RESERVISTS TO JOIN COLORS

port that the mobilization order had been withdrawn.

Dispatches to the United Press from its Rome and Paris bureaus confirmed the reports of Greek mobilization and added that Greek officers already were leaving for Athens. Rome, Paris and Petrograd believe Bulgaria's participation a practical certainty.

Press dispatches today reported that the leaders of all political parties in Bulgaria have withdrawn their objection to the attitude of the government and have pledged unanimous support to Czar Ferdinand in any step he may take. Diplomats here who are still hopeful of a better turn of Balkan affairs, declared this might mean that the political leaders had been informed that Bulgaria's attitude favored the allies and hence had withdrawn their protests. This opinion, however, was not held by the majority.

The press of all the allied capitals has awakened to the gravity of the situation.

A Petrograd dispatch today said that the Russian press expresses no surprise at the Bulgarian mobilization order and regards the situation as "most serious." The United Press bureau at Paris wired today that the newspapers here agree the Balkan situation is grave.

The Bulgarian legation today was unable to confirm a report that the mobilization order had suddenly been withdrawn. Attaches said they could imagine no development that would lead the Bulgarian czar to cancel his decree after it had once been promulgated. This rumor only increased the perplexity here as to Ferdinand's real purpose.

London took the view that if Athens' reports of mobilization of twenty-eight classes of Bulgarian reserves, are true, there can be no doubt as to Bulgaria's intentions. It was pointed out here that no such force is needed to "preserve Bulgaria's neutrality.

NISH, Serbia, via Paris, Sept. 24.—The best information obtainable here indicates that there are 800,000 German troops available for an attempt to force a passage through Serbia. It is felt in Nish that this movement will be undertaken, although when is not known.

BURGLAR TO GET SENTENCE TOMORROW

Frederick Nelson, confessed burglar, who robbed the Alfred James residence here and who was captured by Burton James, will probably be sentenced by Judge E. C. Higbee in circuit court tomorrow.

Divorce suits of Ida H. Knothe, vs. John H. Knothe, and Lorenzo B. Ledman vs. Jennie K. Ledman are among twelve civil suits to be heard.

FAIR WILL HAVE HEADQUARTERS IN DOWN-TOWN SHOP

Signs of activity are beginning to show on the Interstate fair grounds, and workmen are hustling jobs here and there for the opening of fair week Tuesday.

Downtown headquarters of the fair will be established in the photograph shop between Main and State streets on Fourth street, formerly used as republican headquarters.

Persons from out-of-town will be furnished messengers there who will escort them to lodgings when hotels do not have room. "We are not going into competition with local hotels," said Secretary C. S. Van Auken, "but we are going to be prepared to take care of the guests who favor us with their company next week."

Announcement was made by officials of the Burlington here that passenger train No. 58, southbound, leaving La Crosse at 10:46 in the evening would stop at all small towns between here and Cassville, to allow the early return of fair visitors from downriver points.

"This is the first year this concession has been made," said Secretary Van Auken,' and it will undoubtedly be the means of bringing many people to the fair who would otherwise not come."

The train will stop on the nights of Wednesday and Thursday, September 29 and 30.

NO LIGHT SHED ON HORNE DEATH

Efforts of relatives here to get into communication with some one who can explain the manner of the death of Henry E. Horne, 115 South Tenth street, on his ranch at Tolosa, Mexico, had brought no results this afternoon. Outside of the mere fact that Mr. Horne is dead, cabled yesterday by his secretary, no further information has been elicited, although the American consul at Salina Cruz has been asked to ascertain whatever details possible.

AUTO FIRM INCORPORATES

Articles of incorporation of the Zimmer Motor Car company of La Crosse, were filed with Register of Deeds A. E. Thompson today. The concern is to have a capital stock of $5,000. The incorporators are Jacob E. Zimmer, Otto H. Matzke and Susan Zimmer.

BOLTON ENGAGED ON FORCE OF THE SHIPPERS' ASS'N

Vigorous Campaign to Procure and Maintain Equitable Rates Is Promised by Organization

Coincident with the association of S. J. Bolton with W. W. West as commissioners of the La Crosse Shippers' association, a vigorous campaign to procure and maintain equitable freigh rates for La Crosse was announced by the association today.

On the 15th of May, 1914, the La Crosse Shippers' association organized and opened for business with offices at Room 7, 307 Main street, the promoters of the organization being F. W. Sisson, L. H. Martin and A. P. Funk. W. W. West, for twenty years rate clerk with the C. M. & St. P railway, was engaged and handled the work alone for over a year. It became apparent many weeks ago that additional help was necessary as the usefulness and practicability of the organization had been demonstrated, the demands upon it constantly increasing. A meeting was called and the proposition put up to the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club, which recognizing the necessity and advantages of the organization, took the Shippers' association over. It is now known as the La Crosse Shippers' Association, Traffic department of the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club.

Some six week ago a campaign was inaugurated to increase the membership and raise a sufficient amount of money to engage hedp and maintain an efficient traffic organization. The association has engaged Mr. S. J. Bolton, who handled the complaints in the Minnesota and in-bound cases. He and Mr. West will act as commissioners of the association, and a vigorous campaign will be waged to procure and maintain just and equitable rates for La Crosse. In addition to this the work will include auditing of all freight bills, quoting of rates, routing, filing over charge claims and furnishing all information possible.

The organization started with a membership of twenty-two and at the present writing it has seventy-two members and expects many more.

The Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club has appointed a committee of five consisting of F. W. Sisson, L. H. Martin, A. P. Funk, John C. Burns and P. M. Gelatt, who, with President MacWillie and Secretary Van Auken as members ex-officio, will have entire charge of the affairs of the organization.

Wisdom is the blessed mediator between man and adversity.

UNCLE SAM TAKES CHARGE OF CASE AGAINST NEGRO

Karl Schmidt, negro who is alleged to have attempted to extort $30 from George W. Hickline, colored man servant of D. Cunningham of the Burlington road, was held to the October federal grand jury by Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison yesterday afternoon.

Schmidt, who has been held in the city jail here since his arrest earlier in the week, was taken from the city authorities by U. S. Marshal Rock Flint, who served a federal warrant on him yesterday. He was held in $250 bond to the federal court, and turned over to Flint for safe keeping when unable to furnish the money.

The charge against Schmidt accuses him of violating the federal penal code by sending threatening letters through the mails.

HUNGARIAN GRAIN CROPS PLENTIFUL

Department of Agriculture Reports Harvest in Cereals Better This Year Than the Last

WHEAT YIELD NEARLY DOUBLE

Other Staples Show Big Increase Due to Careful Cultivation and Forethought

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Harvest prospects in Hungary are in every respect excellent, says a Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Continental Times.

The Hungarian department of agriculture has just published the first statistical estimates of the Hungarian crop yield in respect to the most important kinds of grain.

These estimates have been very carefully made, and the harvest gathering has already proceeded so far that no fear should exist that they will be found in error. The wheat crop is a splendid one, and the result will be such that the yield has only once or twice been exceeded, and then only by some hundred thousand metric centners (centner, about 110 pounds.)

The probable yield of the wheat crop is 46,000,000 centners as compared with 28,640,000 last year. This does not include the yield in Croatia and Slavonia, which is estimated to equal at least 50,000,000. Owing to the good crop weather the quality far exceeds that of the last harvest.

The rye crop will be greater by 1,800,000 centners than last year and amounts to 12,900,000 centners. It is a pleasant surprise to learn that the barley crop will be only little behind that of 1914. The fears entertained at the beginning of July in reference to this crop because of the dry weather proved to have been much exaggerated. The yield of oats will also be about the same as last year.

Next Year's Bread Assured

The significance of these figures is at once apparent. No anxiety need exist as to the sufficiency of bread and flour for next season. Just as the central powers succeeded in holding out during the last crop year by placing certain restrictions on consumption, so they know today that the population of Austria-Hungary will be abundantly supplied with bread and meal till the end of the crop year 1915-16.

Of last year's maize crop (Indian corn) there are still large quantities on hand, and the prospects for this year are good. The bulbous vegetables are doing well, and there will be no shortage of food for cattle.

The results of the wheat, rye, barley and oats harvests in the Austrian half of the dual monarchy cannot yet be given in figures, especially since the acreage cultivated is not accurately known. At least a good average crop of wheat and rye is expected. A falling off in districts which have formed part of the seat of war must be taken into account. Even here, however, conditions are better than looked for a few weeks ago.

The reports of those who have traveled hastily through central Galicia immediately after the delivery from the Russian invasion are unanimous in reporting that the peasants, with remarkable persistence, have cultivated their soil in the very midst of war, and numerous stretches of the most fertile districts show flourishing fields of wheat and rye. The most conservative judgment will consequently place the diminished yield in wheat and rye in the Austrian half of the empire at scarcely 5,000,000 centners each.

If one sets off against this the almost 20,000,000 centners of increased production in Hungary there can be no doubt that the bread and flour supply for the joint Austro-Hungarian population in the new harvest year will be an excessively larger one than in the preceding.

Early Harvest Assured

Finally it is greatest significance that the crop of both halves of the empire can be gathered and housed a full fourteen days earlier than in the summer of 1914. The blessing of an abundant harvest will assist the struggles of the victorious troops, because not only they, but also the whole population, are now assured that they will be spared any anxiety about the food supply and that the plan of England to starve out women and children and the aged in order to reach what she cannot accomplish by force of arms has miscarried.

HAITIENS FIRE ON AMERICAN MARINES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A column of fifty marines and sailors were fired on Tuesday morning, according to a dispatch received at the navy department today from Admiral Caperton at Haiti.

The firing was done from ambush by Cacos, while the marines under command of Major S. D. Butler were marching from Gonaives to Poteau. The American forces returner the fire, killing one Caco. No American casualties were reported.

INVESTIGATION IS STARTED TO FIX BLAME FOR HORROR

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—While municipal commissions and the grand jury were trying today to fix the blame for New York's latest subway horror, in which seven are now known dead and scores badly injured, there is a strong probability that the real cause may never be known.

The evidence is either blown away by the dynamite blast that started the catastrophe, or is buried underneath tons of debris.

A police net was thrown out today for August Mezzanotte, who set off the dynamite blast. Some officials think he was blown to atoms.

MILWAUKEE SUFFERER TRIED JUST ONE DOSE

Ben Behling Gave Up Hope Before He Found Remedy—Happy Now

Ben F. Behling of 959 Louis avenue, Milwaukee, was a sufferer from maladies of the stomach and digestive tract for a long time. He gave up hope.

At last he discovered Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. He took a dose just to try it. The results were remarkable. He wrote:

"I was in such bad condition that I had given up hope of ever getting well again. I sent to you for one dose of your remedy and took it the same day you sent it. It has worked wonderfully. I took five more bottles, one each week. I am now a new man again. I thank you a thousand times for the good you did me."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

BOMB PLOT AGAIN HAS GARY IN GRIP

GARY, nd., Sept. 24.—Gary's hydra-headed fear—the bomb plot—again held the center of the stage here today when Mike Bogowich, an Austrian, was given a preliminary hearing on a charge of conspiracy to blow up the great Aetna Powder mill here.

Bogowich was an employe at the Aetna works. The police claim to have an affidavit by Nick Daith, another employe, to the effect that Bogowich said he would get $10,000 for dynamiting the powder mills, the gun cotton factories and the drying kilns. As additional evidence the police planned to present a letter they say Bogowich wrote to friends in Detroit, saying he would receive $10,000 for destroying the Aetna works.

REINE DAVIES AND FUNNY TRIO SPLIT MAJESTIC HONORS

Sherman, Van and Hyman Have Remarkable Collection of Musical Nonsense Which Goes Big

Reine Davies, movie star and vaudeville queen, divides the limelight with Sherman, Van and Hyman on one of the classiest vaudeville bills of the season, which opened at the Majestic last night for the rest of the week. Miss Davies, known as "The Beautiful Lady of Vaudeville," appears in three songs that suit her abilities particularly. A little Jap and a pianist are with her in the act. She wears three very fetching gowns which interested the feminine part of the audience, almost as much as her remarkable sweet voice and pleasing presence.

Sherman, Van and Hyman came up to the advance notices in which they were touted as "big time" funny men. They sing and entertain with a most remarkable line of foolery, which kept the house in an uproar. The act is clean and interesting, and highly original.

Rome and Kirby, Terpsichorean comiques, have a completely new routine of eccentric dancing. Practically every one of their steps and dances made its first appearance in La Crosse with the pair last night, and they were received with great approval. Another novelty act was that of the Gardner Maniacs, which introduces a surprising troupe of athletic bull-dogs, in physical culture stunts clear out of the line of any trained animal act that has appeared here. The dogs do remarkable leaps and one of them, an ugly-looking English bull, performs a slide from the balcony rail holding with his teeth to a trolley.

Rapoli, a juggler of dexterity and strength, opens the show. He handles everything from a paper wad to a projectile weighing hundreds of pounds with apparent ease, and displays in addition remarkable quickness and skill in every conceivable kind of juggling.

Carl Statzer, a black-face comedian of parts, was chief character in a funny sketch called "The Coon Detective," which ran for fifteen minutes of riotous fun.

War Office News of Fighting

PARIS, Sept. 24.—French batteries seriously damaged German works in an all-night artillery battle around Arras, the war office stated this afternoon. Another furious artillery engagement occurred around Roye and Q&uennevieres, where the Germans used asphyxiating shells, but without result.

Near Bretencourt a strong German patrol detachment attempted to storm a French advance position, but was driven off, suffering heavy losses.

The French have poured a heavy cannonade upon the German works in the Champagne and the Argonne for twenty-four hours, wrecking trenches, block-houses and enemy encampments.

Several German attacks in Lorraine west of Manhof and north of Bures were repulsed.

EGAN'S DEATH A MYSTERY

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—"Big Bill" Egan, known as "The Devil" in Chicago's underworld, once known as one of the best detectives in the country, who was recently convicted of bribery in connection with Chicago's clairvoyant trust, will never serve a penitentiary term. Egan was found dead in his home today. There was much mystery connected with his death and suicide rumors are being investigated. He had been drinking since the trial board ousted him.

The Moving-Picture Route to California Expositions

You don't get half the joy of a trip to the Pacific Coast if you take a route that brings you through Colorado's scenic marvels at night, or dodges them altogether. It's a rare privilege to visit Colorado—to view its rugged grandeur, its almost bottomless canyons. It's a travel-mistake to overlook such scenery as this. You need not. The Burlington's Grand Circle Tour to the Pacific Coast is so arranged that you are wide awake when you go through Denver, Colorado Springs, the Pikes Peak Region, Royal Gorge and Salt Lake; then Los Angeles, both expositions; two days on the ocean (meals and berth included to Burlington passengers) to Portland; then you visit Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane; and come back via either Glacier National Park or Yellowstone Park. Positively, no other tour is so filled with pleasureable excitement—and satisfaction.

Let us talk this trip over with you! If you are going to the Pacific coast this fall—and, by the way, the fall season is perfectly delightful there—you simply cannot afford to overlook the special advantages offered by Burlington Tours. Let us tell you all about them, and arrange reservation for you. Please call today or write or phone.

GEORGE GANO FROM FAMOUS DAN PATCH BREEDING STABLES

World's Champion Saddle Pacer Owned by M. W. Savage to Be Ridden by Murry Anderson

George Gano is a horse bred in the most aristocratic equine stables, probably in the United States. A stable-mate of George Gano is Dan Patch, world's champion pacer, who went the mile in 1:55, and Patchen Grey, full sister of Dan Patch, was also brought up with George Gano.

And George Gano is maybe just a little bit bigger champion than either of them, for he holds the distinction of being the best pacer under saddle alive, and it may be said that pacers who can carry the weight of a man on their backs are few and far between.

The horse will be driven on the fair grounds each day in exhibition heats and on Wednesday, Sept. 29 will pace under saddle with Murry Anderson, his trainer "up."

George Gano is owned by M. W. Savage of Minneapolis, who owns Dan Patch and who has raised many race horses of past and present fame.

Mr. Savage has entered three of his favorites in the races at the Interstate fair this year, according to C. S. Van Auken, secretary of the association.

ATHLETES NOT TO PLAY CLOTHIERS DURING FAIR WEEK

NORMAL PLAYERS TO BE NUMBERED SIGNALS ARE USED

Numerical System Adopted by Normal Conference; First Accident of Year to Eberding

The numerical system in football, which for the last three years has been a topic of heated discussion in college and university circles, has incorporated into the Wisconsin normal school conference gridiron. All the normal schools of the state will use the system, as the result of a conference ruling.

The new maroon and gray jerseys of the La Crosse normal footballers will be numbered, enabling officials, coaches and spectators as well as players to follow more easily than under the old system.

Coach Sputh started signal practice last night. The three squads were given the calls, Tommy Skemp leading the first team. It appears reasonably certain that he is a fixture at quarter. Grounds, a new man in football, being the only other man on the squad to display marked proficiency at the pivot position. So plentiful is backfield material that La Fromboise has been put at guard.

Scrimmage will be commenced soon, only two weeks remaining before the season is opened with the Maroons here. That the first squad will have no dearth of opposition in the scrubs is evidenced by the number of men working out.

Coach Sputh, who taught first aid at the University of Illinois during the summer, brought back from Urbana pointers in the play of the Big Nine champions which he expects to apply to advantage to his gridiron prospects.

Eberding Breaks Collabone

Adolph Eberding of Bloomington, Ill., it has developed, broke a collarbone in practice Monday night in not following out instructions in falling on the ball. The accident was the first of the season.

The new field was used at times this week but the ground is still too soft. In order to preserve the sod, most of the practicing, for the present at least, will have to be carried on on the old grounds.

New togs arrived yesterday. The entire team will be equipped with new suits, shoulder harness and head gear.

New York fans could hardly believe 'twas true today—the Giants, Yanks, Dodgers and Brookfeds all scored victories.

Leader Of High School Team Is Put At Quarter

"WALLIE" REGET

Captain "Wallie" Reget is trying out at a new position, that of quarterback. His handling of the ball is good and the team is running smoothly under his direction.

Because of his wonderful speed and brilliant playing at right half some few of the fans believe his shifting a mistake while others think Horne's action full of great possibilities. The quarterback run will now be developed to its greatest efficiency, it being known what a great offensive power this one run is.

With a man like "Wallie" to carry the ball and interference like the backfield is now giving it will be well nigh impossible to stop the Horne machine.

Grover Cleveland Alexander dallied with the Cubs playfully in the first game. In the after-piece Rixey, the well known college yell, did likewise and the Phils drew still farther away from the Dodgers.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Johnny Tener's cellar has a new tenant today—Mr. Bresnahan's Cubs. Only a few short months ago the Cubs were setting the pace.

The race at the lower end of the National league between McGraw and Bresnahan, is almost as interesting ts that of the top.

William Carrigan seems to be a mite heartless along with his other attributes. Cleveland's Indians look the same to him as do other clubs.

The Tigers, it seems, will make things unpleasant for Carrigan's clan as long as possible. They haven't lost a game since leaving Boston.

Fred Clarke retired from the Grandoldgame content with the fact he got a hit, just to show 'em the old man wasn't dead yet.

INJUNCTION FAVORS TEACHERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Judge John M. O'Connor today issued to the Chicago Teachers' federation an injunction restraining the board of education from putting into effect its recently adopted rule whereby teachers were forbidden membership in any organization affiliated with organized labor.

Warner's

Safe Diabetes Remedy

In diabetes the nutrition is impaired—this results in an excess of sugar in the blood, and the failure of the food to nourish, hence a gradual wasting away while eating well.

Symptoms of this disease are increased thirst, excess of urine, emaciation and dry skin often with sweetish odor.

"I had diabetes and was given up by all doctors of my town. I took Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and am now perfectly well."—Rev. Alvin H. Morton, Sand Point, Idaho.

RUSHFORD LIBRARY MAY BE SOCIAL CENTER OF TOWN

Endeavor Being Made to Have Building Open Two or More Evenings Each Week for Meetings

RUSHFORD, Minn., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—As a means of making it a place where young people of Rushford may meet in the evening, to study and read, an endeavor is being made to have the Rushford public library kept open two or three evenings each week. An increasing number of boys and girls of various ages congregating on the streets has been pointed out, and it is believed that keeping the library open will prevent this practice.

"Hello Girls" Move

Rushford "Hello Girls" will soon be domiciled in their new quarters on Main street. It is understood that the new exchange will be opened October 1. The exchange will be one of the best in the northwest for its size.

Local and Personal

Mr. N. T. Austinson returned from Rochester last Saturday but will go over again Thursday. Mrs. Austinson, who submitted to a serious operation last Wednesday, is now rallying nicely, though for a time the question of her recovery was a doubtful one. Miss Minnie Austinson of Dennison, is staying with the family in Rushford during Mrs. Austinson's absence from home.

Miss Stella Tofstad will leave for her duties as instructor in the New Albin, Iowa, schools next Friday.

Miss Alice Berg will take up a course in nursing at the La Crosse Lutheran hospital a week from next Thursday. Miss Mary Culhane, another of the Rushford young ladies, has been taking up work in the same hospital for the past month and is very enthusiastic in praise of the institution.

John Culhane, Jr., is expected to arrive at his home in this city. He has been out in Canada, near Milestone, all summer, with his father, John Culhane, Sr., who has a farm there.

Rev. John Bantly, pastor of the Rushford Presbyterian church, is in Caledonia this week attending a meeting of the Winona Presbytery.

Frances Overland of Bratsberg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Olaf Johnson of Ferry street.

Edward Anderson of Choice, was a guest of his mother, Mrs. Gunder Anderson, of Ferry street, last Wednesday.

Mesdames Todd and Sinsey of Money Creek, have been recent visitors in Rushford.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Groezinger, of Bangor, Wis., who were present at the 25th wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Bantley of Rushford, returned to their home last Tuesday. The silver-wedding was celebrated last Saturday.

ROCKEFELLER TO MEET DIRECTORS

TRINIDAD, Col., Sept. 24.—On the second anniversary of the declaration of the miners' strike, today, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., went to Walsenburg, Col., scene of some of the bloodiest encounters in the famous labor war. John R. Lawson, the strikers' leader who is in the local jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal from a life sentence for murder, regretted that Rockefeller did not visit him.

Rockefeller planned to go to Denver to attend his first meeting of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company's directorate next week. Chairman Frank Walsh's criticism of Rockefeller's admission before the federal industrial commission that he had never attended a directors' meeting and depende entirely upon the reports of the management regarding conditions led Rockefeller to make the present personal investigation, he confessed.

Week's Offering In Movieland As Seen in La Crosse

By N. D. Tevis

Moving pictures can come back in La Crosse. Not that there were ever any "was weres" among the celluloid productions, but the movie feature has reached the stage where one trip around the theater circuit is not enough to suffice and there are thousands of fans in the country who want many pictures returned once, and even two or three times.

A local example of this is the picture, "Cameo Kirby," showing Dustin Farnum, recently seen here, which will be shown again Wednesday, at the Bijou.

The Casino and other local theaters are staging "come backs' frequently, and the second performance always nets more to the management than the first appearance.

Reviewing pictures seen at La Crosse houses in the last seven days, "The Sealed Valley," a Metro production at the Casino, and a Lasky-Belasco production, "The Fighting Hope," loom above the rest—all good however.

Movies Here This Week

CASINO—"Marrying Money," with Clara Kimball Young. Miss Young enters the field of comics pictures with this offering.

BIJOU—"Kilmeny," showing Lenore Ulrich, star of "The Bird of Paradise." Three big Paramount stars support her, and the picture is a top-notcher.

Laura Hope Crews plays the "heavy" parts in the last named, and Dorothy Donelly, the star of "Madam X" took the leading role in "The Sealed Valley."

"Such a Little Queen," is a film which cannot be overlooked in the hurried resume of past events, as it brought Mary Pickford.

"Kilmeny"—Bijou

Leonore Ulrich, star of "The Bird of Paradise," last winter's big stage success shown here, is playing at the Bijou today in "Kilmeny," a picture which has met with tremendous applause in the larger cities where it has been seen. Miss Ulrich is supported by Myrtle Stedman, Herbert Standing and Doris Baker, all topnotchers. Another series of the travel pictures of South America are being shown and the program will be continued until Saturday.

Clark in "Seven Sisters"

Marguerite Clark, sweetest star of Paramount pictures, comes back to the Bijou Sunday for a three days' engagement in "Seven Sisters," her latest play, and one which "best picture" lists all contain. The play is the most successful vehicle which Daniel Frohman road to success over the bumps of theaterdom in New York.

"Cameo Kirby," the tale of the Mississippi river life, will return to the Bijou by request Wednesday, September 29, and Dustin Farnum will again hold the center of moviedom on that date.

"The Puppet Crown," with Ina Claire and Caryle Blackwell; "Rage," showing Mary Pickford, and "Sold," with Pauline Fredericks, are some of the big features the Bijou will offer after fair week here.

Mme. Olga Petrova in "The Vampire," at the Casino

"The Birth of a Nation"

The announcement of the date of D. G. Griffith's masterpiece production, "The Birth of a Nation," is made today.

The much-heralded picture, called "The eighth wonder of the world" will show for one week at the Majestic, beginning November 14, and the local theater will not "vaud" for seven days, while the little old movie will come back to its own.

Thomas Dixon's "Clansmen" and "Leopard Spots," two books which have to do with the reclamation days in the old "south," are to blame for the picture's setting. Naturally the negro question is the central theme, and the films have seldom been seen below the Mason and Dixon line.

The picture cost a round half million dollars. Eighteen thousand persons take part in the action. Three thousand horses were used, and eight months were required to complete the scenes. It has barrels of favorable comment, comment such as few stage of film productions have ever gotten, and it has some unfavorable comment, but those who have studied its aim—and its aim is paramount—agree that it holds the highest place in Movieland today.

Casino For Week

Clara Kimball Young is playing at the Casino today and tomorrow in "Marrying Money," a recent picture by the World Feature company. No film star enjoys more popularity with fans of the screen than Miss Young. She has failed to appear very recently and the delightful farce by Washington Pazet, in which she is showing today, is a welcome diversion. This is Miss Young's first trial at the comic stuff.

A four-part masterpiece picture, "The Milestones of Life," is the Casino offering for Sunday, featuring Mignon Anderson. The picture is an exposition of the life of a man and woman, and is filled with laughter and tears.

"The Vampire"

Monday and Tuesday bring Mme. Petrova, recognized as the best in emotional acting on the screen in "The Vampire," a Metro film written especially for her. The actress was last seen here in "The Heart of a Painted Woman."

The Casino management has arranged for a number of Charlie Chaplin fun pictures for fair week.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass

Tomah, Wis.

TOMAH, Wis., Sept. 24.—(Special.)—The city clerk is busy in his spare time compiling and arranging a new city directory, which will be ready for delivery about October 15.

Miss Mabel Talbot of the kindergarten called a meeting of the mothers on Thursday afternoon to explain the work for the children for the year. A large number attended and it was a very profitable meeting.

The civil service examinations for postal carriers for the free delivery will be held October 2, at the high school building.

Charles Hamilton has sold his new house to Mr. Kuthlow of the Ridge. Mr. Hamilton will remain in the house until spring.

Mrs. Oscar Beecham of Deerfield, Ill., is the guest of Mrs. J. G. Graham.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Bartel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fieting and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bosshard motored to La Crosse on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vaudell and son Orin have gone on a motor trip to Watertown.

Miss Ethel Getman has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Sherwood, at Mauston.

Henry Belaski was operated on at Tomah hospital for appendicitis.

Mrs. W. B. Naylor and Mrs. Edward Schwerer are spending a few days with Mrs. John Brahmer in La Crosse.

Mrs. Ida Stannard of La Crosse is visiting her father, Mr. Al Withers.

Mrs. Harry Enckhausen of Sparta spent Thursday in Tomah with Mr. Fred Talbot and family.

Crall and family are moving into Mrs. Eaton's flat on Superior avenue.

FEDERAL LEAGUE HAS CLOSE RACE

Pittsburgh Leads Third Circuit with Chicago and St. Louis Game and Half Behind

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—There is every evidence of bitter battle right up to the curtain's drop in the fight for the Federal flag. The older leagues never staged a prettier scrap for a pennant.

Pittsburg is leading today by the grace of a game and a half. The Whales and St. Louis are each that distance behind. Chicago has an edge with a .553 percentage. The S'lou Feds' mark is .552.

The leaders today begin a harder job than that set for the Whales and Terriers. Pittsburg will be playing a series with Newark, always a hard nut for them, while Chicago is meeting Brooklyn and St. Louis clashes with Buffalo.

Very few stumbles by either Pittsburg or Chicago in the series starting today and merely the usual success St. Louis has had this year in walloping Buffalo, will put a pennant where nobody in the world ever thought one would bloom.

PELICANS WILL NOT PLAY THE MILLERS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24.—The New Orleans Pelicans, champions of the Southern league, will not play the Minneapolis Millers, champions of the American association, for the minor league championship, according to information given out today by the management of the local club. Negotiations for a series have been called off, it was announced, and the announcement was strengthened by the news that the local park had been leased for a charity bazaar.

If ur acts condemn us, our words will not avail us.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Southern Pacific and Union Pacific led the market at the opening, gaining ¾ and ½ over night respectively. Stocks generally were higher and the tone firm. Steel opened 100 shares at 77⅝ and two thousand at 77½ to ⅜.

Baldwin Locomotive made a record high during the opening hour, selling up 2¼ to 92¼. Railroad issues developed strength in the late forenoon on belief that the international loan would go through. Bethlehem Steel preferred sold up ½ to 180, the high mark touched several weeks ago. The market quieted after noon but prices held firm.

The market was comparatively quiet in the afternoon. The Steel merger report sent Bethlehem Steel preferred to 183, a new high, and Crucible Steel common set a new high at 97¼.

The stock market closed strong.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Wheat was fairly steady today, due chiefly to the board's decision to allow No. 1 northern Velvet chaff to be delivered on contracts with the dockage, with the proviso it must be cleaned if the buyer so orders. Otherwise, September futures at any rate would have experienced a very sharp advance. Prices at the opening—$1.05, 93½c and 97c—represented over night changes of down-and-up ⅜c for December and May respectively. Later in the day September declined one point, while December and May advanced 1½ and ¼c on strong buying.

Corn and oats prices acted very much in sympathy with wheat. The market was quiet.

Provisions were sharply higher at the opening on good buying. Later they were easier, but still retained advances over yesterday's close.

FOR YOUNG MEN

Do you want the real English type of sack suit, Young Sir? With the slender, shapely shoulders and sleeves? The high, snug, soldierly waist line? The soft, supple lapels, gracefully rolled instead of creased down—suggesting in the whole coat front an easy, savoir vivre personality? It is the trim, military-cut coat that is the mode of the modish this fall; figure-tracing from the waist line up, but flaring—just the least bit—the jaunty coat skirt below.

The Royal Tailors of Chicago and New York are making this type of English suit for OUR young men. Let us make them for you—a suit or overcoat at a most reasonable price.

We can make you a most excellent suit at $20.00—an overcoat the same price.

BRITISH WEAKNESS IS DISORGANIZATION

London Times Says Germany Is Reaping Her Reward of Scientific Planning

MONEY AND MEN USED WISELY

England Bungles and Wastes Treasure on Hasty and Ill Considered Experiments Is German Claim

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Nowadays nothing is so striking in England as the manner in which, in press and parliament, German organization and methodical measures are being constantly held up as examples to the British public as the acme of perfection to which England must seek to rise, says a London dispatch to the Continental Times.

The following extract from a leading article in the London Times is one of the many examples of that sincere form of flattery with which England's papers cover Germany:

Germany is Organized

"Germany has organized herself for a war, and we have not. It is her boast, and she is entitled to it. She has become far more self supporting than in peace, and in a sense the very economic disadvantage inflicted by the war has become a military advantage, while our economic advantage has been largely counteracted by the military needs.

"The point of superiority possessed by Germany over the Allies in all these recent months has lain in the supply of munitions, and one of the conditions which have helped to give the Germans that superiority is the interference with their export trade. Instead of making for an export, manufacturers have been making for the field.

"The necessity of doing this, which has been forced upon British manufacturers, but only recently realized, has had the converse effect and limited our exports, so that the balance of trade is heavily against us.

Advantages Possessed By Germany

Another point is that Germany is carrying on war very much more cheaply than we are. That is an advantage, be it remembered, which is not due to superior commercial organization or a higher standard of conduct among manufacturers and traders.

"It is due to the methodical enrollment of her armies, to rigid economy on the part of the war office, to the low scale of allowances, to the absence of costly expenditure on naval and transport work and to requisitions from the enemy territories occupied.

"For the present, at all events, Germany is standing the strain of war without any visible sign of economic exhaustion. She is perhaps nearer to it than appears from the surface, but we cannot reckon on that and must be prepared for an indefinite prolongation of the struggle.

"This can only be done, to use Lord St. Aldwin's words, 'by the most rigid and unsparing exercise of public and private economy.' The estimates of prospective expenditure made by Harold Cox, which will be found in the current number of the Edinburgh Review, will convince every income tax payer of the seriousness of the case. Mr. Cox calculates that we shall have to borrow not less than $10,000,000,000 and that our annual expenditure hereafter will be increased by $650,000,000 over the peace standard."

It will be remembered that the chancellor of the exchequer recently stated that the war could not possibly last long because of the terrific expenditure it entailed. For England to talk of a prolonged war nowadays, when her financial situation is, according to Mr. MacKenna, in no position to stand the strain, is absurd.

Lord Cromer's Idea

In the upper house Lord Cromer somewhat astonished his colleagues by stating that England was acting the part of a gambler who had lost all sense of the worth of money. All the efforts of parliament would be in vain in restoring the financial status of the country for years to come.

Certain officials appeared to believe that with the war all control over military and naval expenditure ceased to exist. The Germans acted quite otherwise. With them economy and efficiency worked together.

NEW YORK GAPES AT PANTALETTE

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—Fifth avenue's eyes were wide open today. Rents will be raised, it is said, in offices facing the windy Flatiron building corner.

The Pantalette has—or have—arrived. The grim determination of Paris designers, abetted by the wiles of American manufacturers who have anything to do with it, they are going to be put across—or around—this time.

You make 'em out of any colored silk you want—green, salmon, scarlet, Scotch plaid. You put some fur around the bottom. Then you cut six or seven inches more off the bottom of your skirt and insert it in the circumference so it is more billowy when the wind blows. That's the latest.

Paris designers showed the pantalette here today at a style show.

Cleanse The Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. They tried S. S. S.—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happines. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S.
